

Hello PV School Community:

This upcoming Friday, December 6th, is Pajama Day for all students and faculty! The PV student council is hosting a Pajama Day to help the kids at Children's Hospital of Philadelphia(CHOP) by asking for $1 donations to support research to transform the well being of children and create healthier communities throughout Philadelphia and across the world. Please consider sending $1 with your child to school on Friday to support this worthy cause. Below is a link should you wish to contribute additional funds.
